

A Merry Christmas To All

Ant. Area Pupils To Attend Conference

Students from Antioch area schools have been invited to attend the Chemical Industries Council's Chemistry Career Seminar, which will be held on Saturday, Jan. 11, 1969 at the Pick-Congress Hotel, Chicago.

The Seminar will be held in the Francis L. Belmont, Plaza, Avenue East and West Rooms of the hotel. Students may register from 8:30 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m.

A feature of the Seminar is person-to-person counseling by men and women from chemical and pharmaceutical companies in the Chicago area.

The men will outline the requirements for a career in chemistry and will cover all major career areas. Representatives from Chicago area colleges and universities will counsel students on educational requirements.

The students will first receive an orientation to the chemical industry through a demonstration and orientation session conducted by Dr. L. I. Krimm of Abbott Laboratories.

Then, they will attend a session conducted by the CIC Career Team, a panel of chemical industry representatives who appear in Chicago area schools to provide programs on careers in chemistry.

After this, students will participate in small round-table discussions, which will cover the basic career areas in the industry—Research, Production, and Marketing.

A special area has been set aside for displays and demonstrations. These will include a demonstration of laboratory glass-blowing by Roosevelt University and a packaged power demonstration by Union Carbide Corporation.

Free educational literature from companies and educational institutions will also be available.

Hospitals To Aid Teaching

Approval has been granted to five Lake County hospitals to participate as teaching units for students enrolled in the Associate Degree in Nursing program at the College of Lake County.

The Department of Registration and Education and the Committee of Nurse Examiners, after surveying the College district's hospital facilities and resources, has approved the participation of Victory Memorial Hospital and St. Therese Hospital of Waukegan, the Veterans Hospital at Downey, Zion-Penton Hospital in Zion, and Condell Memorial Hospital of Libertyville in the program.

Prior approval by the Department was necessary before the College of Lake County could proceed with the establishment of a School of Nursing and the development of a nursing curriculum.

Contractual agreements for the clinical resources at the approved hospitals will be mutually agreed upon by the College's Director of Nursing and the hospital administrators and Nursing Service Directors.

Library Board Holds Back Contract Letting

The Antioch Township Library Board has delayed awarding of bids for construction of the new library until a revision of plans with an aim towards cutting costs is made.

The board received four general bids at the meeting but none was awarded because all of them, a spokesman said, exceeded the estimated construction cost for the project.

The spokesman said that the board authorized the architect to contact the low bidder to determine if he would hold his bid in abeyance until the revisions are made.

No disclosure was made on what bids would be acceptable to the board. Only one bid on to the students.

According to Ramon Greenwood, Morton International, CIC Seminar Chairman, this is the only event of its type held in Chicago designed to provide students with first-hand information on the many jobs in the chemical industry.

Greenwood said that approximately 140 men and women from chemical companies will serve as counselors.

The Chemical Industries Council-Midwest is composed of over 30 leading chemical and pharmaceutical companies with headquarters, plants or sales offices in the Chicago area.

The Council's prime purpose is to provide educational information and assistance to students and teachers.

The Council works in cooperation with the national Manufacturing Chemists' Association.

County Brochure Ready

The new brochure "Lake County Government" has been unveiled and is ready for distribution throughout the county.

It was prepared by David L. Davis, county director of public information and includes such facts as:

- Lake County was carved out of the old Northwest Territory.

- The present county boundaries were established 129 years ago by the Illinois General Assembly.

- The county has stockholders and a board of directors and a chief executive officer.

- There are 50 lakes, 265 manufacturing firms, 970 retail businesses and 349 service companies in the county.

The six-page brochure includes a history of the county, a rundown on the operation of county government and a number of statistics.

Remembering Makes Christmas Special

The special happiness of being remembered... with friendly visits, warm greetings and festive little gifts... will make the Christmas season brighter for shut-ins in the Chicago area as members of The Salvation Army's League of Mercy make their traditional holiday calls.

The bonneted lassies are visiting more than 24,000 persons in hospitals, homes for the aged, nursing homes and correctional institutions from Dec. 1 through Dec. 23. Programs of traditional Christmas carols—early awaited by the patients and the elderly—will be presented by vocal and instrumental groups at each institution.

The gift list includes bags of Christmas candy, boxes of chocolates, oranges, apples, slippers, T-shirts, pens, stationery, toilet

Construction Worker Dies In Lindenhurst Cave-In

A Kenosha man died Monday in a cave-in while working on the new sewer system in Lindenhurst.

Dead is Robert E. Ashcraft, 35, of 3811 60th St., Kenosha.

Patrolman Tommy Haywood, of the Lindenhurst police department, said that Ashcraft, who is married but has no children, was working in the hole with another man when the accident occurred.

Haywood said Ashcraft was in the hole eight feet deep and five feet wide when the ground cracked at the top and went in.

Ashcraft was buried in the dirt that cascaded into the hole.

Another worker, Tom Hodge, of North Chicago, was also in the hole, but managed to leap clear before he, too, could be buried.

The accident occurred at 10:30 a.m. and the Lake Villa Rescue Squad was called immediately.

Rescue squad workers labored with a resuscitator but efforts to revive Ashcraft were to no avail. He was rushed to St. Therese Hospital but was dead on admission.

The crews were working on the area at Countryside and Fairfield Avenues.

The work is part of a million-dollar sewer expansion program being put in by Lindenhurst.

When the dirt fell in on top of Ashcraft, workers in the area immediately came to his aid.

Coroner Orville S. Clavey said that Ashcraft's head was partially buried for a few minutes until workers were able to free him from the debris.

Lake Villa Township Supervisor Ronald Coles said that the work had been stopped for several days because of the wet weather and that it was only just begun again Monday morning.

Coles said the work had been stopped because ground was termed too soft to work in.

The sewer system was begun some three months ago by the firm of Kuch and Ingram.

Clavey ordered an autopsy to determine the actual cause of death and a coroner's jury was sworn in late Monday.

The jury will make no findings, however, until the results of the autopsy are known.

Olson Returns Home

Completing a week of entertainment and recreation, J. Stewart Olson, Stewart Olson Implement, R. R. 2, Antioch, Illinois, returned home from Puerto Rico today.

Olson was the winner of an all-expense trip for two as a result of his successful participation in the GROW AND GO sales campaign conducted by the International Harvester Company among its franchised farm equipment dealers.

The nationwide sales campaign was based on retail deliveries of tractors, balers, combines and special industrial equipment manufactured by International Harvester.

During their stay in Puerto Rico, Mr. and Mrs. Olson participated in a series of gala events ranging from deep sea fishing excursions to such other pleasant pursuits as golf, tennis, visiting theatres and native night clubs.

They also visited other places of interest as well as had some leisure time for shopping in the island's exclusive shops for personal items.

New Drivers Law Effective Jan. 1

Everyone who drives an automobile will be affected by Illinois' new Driver's License Act which becomes law as of January 1, 1969.

Perhaps the most sweeping provision of the Act is the one that requires all drivers to submit to a re-examination once every nine years. For first time applicants for a license the law raises the minimum age from 16 to 18, although there are many exceptions. And for drivers 69 years of age or older, the new law—like the old one—requires examination every three years.

The old distinction between a motor vehicle "operator's license" and a "chauffeur's license" is eliminated. Instead, every license will be known simply as a "driver's license," and each license will be classified according to the type of vehicle and type of operation. All licenses will come up for renewal every three years. Previously, the chauffeur's license was issued for only one year.

A driver's license issued after January 1st will not be good for the operation of a motorcycle unless the holder has successfully completed a special examination required for motorcycleists and this fact is indicated on the license. A driver's license can be issued for the operation of a motorcycle only. Persons under the age of 18 will be restricted to the operation of cycles with engines under 150 cubic centimeters piston displacement.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, a schedule will be set up for the re-examination within the next nine years of all Illinois drivers. This means many drivers may be invited to an examination station the next time their driver's licenses come up for renewal.

Such re-examination, the ISBA observes, may or may not include a road-test of the person's skills. However, the re-examination must include a test of the person's eyesight and ability to read and understand road signs and other traffic control signals and laws.

While the Act sets the minimum age for a regular driver's license at 18, exceptions are made to permit younger operators. Here are some of them:

The applicant who is 16 or 17 years old may obtain a driver's license if he or she has successfully completed an approved driver education course.

A person between the ages of 15 and 18 who is enrolled in an

Our Fiscal Condition Is Poor Howlett Says

The fiscal condition of Illinois' state government is precarious, and probably will become desperate before the end of the current biennium, Michael J. Howlett, Auditor of Public Accounts, warned today.

Howlett said the austerity program begun by Governor Shapiro when he took office must be continued and new sources of revenue must be developed to save the state from growing broke.

"Those who favor a state income tax must realize it would be a long-range solution," said Howlett. "It would not be effective in time to meet rising emergencies even if it were not challenged in court. The new General Assembly must provide a source of revenue that could be collected immediately."

Receipts of the General and Common School Fund during the first 17 months of the biennium have averaged $4 million a month less than disbursements, Howlett said, despite a $30 million loan from the Motor Fuel Tax Fund. The General Fund balance dropped from $199,758,747 on July 1, 1967, to $118,502,041 on Nov. 30, (Continued on page three)

As I write this report, history is being made. Apollo 8 has just gone into orbit around the moon and the Astronauts are telling us what the surface looks like from sixty miles up. I can't help but think what this will mean to the U.S. Weather Bureau when a visual report can be received from sixty miles or more above the earth's surface.

At 6:30 a.m. Tuesday morning we have 8" above zero, the coldest so far this season.

Antioch Pilot Rescued, Recovering From Wounds

First Lt. Clifford E. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester White, R.F.D. 2, Box 345, Antioch, is recovering in an Army hospital in Japan.

Lt. White was wounded in Vietnam Dec. 11 while on a mission. He is a helicopter pilot.

Mrs. White said she talked with her son by telephone and that he is all right and receiving excellent care.

White and nine others were aboard a helicopter when it was shot down in Viet Cong territory.

All those aboard escaped alive and he was returned across the lines and was in a hospital within 40 minutes.

Mrs. White said Japanese newspapers called the rescue operation one "of the greatest of the war."

White will be in the hospital about two months. His wife, Patricia, and daughter, Carmen, 18-months, are in Missoula, Mont.

White is a 1962 graduate of Antioch High School and a graduate of the University of Montana.

A Happy Christmas

Christmas is going to be a little bit happier throughout the United States this year.

The crew from the Pueblo are coming home.

The 82 surviving members of the crew from the intelligence ship have finally been released by the North Koreans.

We can only say it is about time.

We were sadly disappointed that the United States officials had to kick their heels for 11 long months before they were able to get our boys back.

It would seem to us that the most powerful nation on earth should throw just a little more weight around instead of turning the other cheek all the time.

Eleven months of torture seems to us to be quite a high price for this nation to ask of its servicemen.

There is also some talk that some of the crew members will probably face charges because they made statements while in enemy hands.

We find this kind of assinine.

It seems to us that the ones that should be charged are the state department bigwigs that pussyfooted around with the lives of our servicemen.

If we are going to play big brother to the world then it seems to us to be high time that we set some of the rules instead of playing by everyone else's.

In our opinion the time to get the boys back would have been the same day they were taken in.

We fail to see where the signing of a "confession" and repudiating it before signing, has anything to do with it.

Granted we do not have all the information at the hands of our officials but it seems to us that a little less diplomacy and a little more action might have done the trick a lot sooner.

But nevertheless we are glad that the boys finally were turned over—no matter what kind of settlement had to be made in order to effect their release.

March Of Dimes

Next month is a significant one in that it is March of Dimes month.

That is the time of the year when collections are made to support the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center network.

And that network has grown over the years.

In charting its course against birth defects, the March of Dimes now finances 103 medical centers in a program begun in 1960 to help provide quality care for victims of these afflictions in all parts of the nation.

Today in America more than 250,000 babies are born with birth defects every year.

When you give to the March of Dimes you fight these birth defects that may cripple your child.

You help support medical scientific investigators and a massive health education program timed at getting the best possible medical care for every mother-to-be.

So when you think about making a resolution for the New Year, make this one.

Resolve that you will wholeheartedly support the March of Dimes.

We will.

To the Editor:

I would like all interested citizens to write the elected officials at state level to vote favorably on coming legislation on aid to private schools. At present private schools get no help and the price of educating a pupil in Lake County grade school is between $600 and $800 per annum. Kindergarten and transportation are extra and above this. If the private and parochial schools close, the burden will be much greater on the taxpayer as new buildings will be needed to house the extra children plus the cost of six to eight hundred dollars per year to educate them.

Spring Grove, Ill. parochial school has closed. The parochial school in nearby Wilmet, Wis., is closing its doors at the end of this year.

Don't let public apathy close these doors. Write your elected officials now!

AN OPEN LETTER

I recently had the good fortune to attend the grade school band concert. It is unbelievable what a fine and accomplished organization this group is. The instructor, Mr. Olisar cannot be given enough credit for the development of these young musicians. The band parents group must also be given much credit for their help. I am sure all of the people who heard this concert will agree this band is a fine asset to the community. They deserve your support.

Courthouse Notebook

By Lou Durkin

Traditionalists are becoming more frustrated each Christmas season as they view the changes being made in the spirit of the season and the accoutrements of the holidays.

It probably started when the first decorator hit on the idea of flocked trees. Now a flocked tree is all right if it is white on green, but when they started using pink and blue and other nicey nice-pastels something fine went out of the trees.

Then came the artificial trees, those monstrous aluminum and plastic creations which could be folded up and put away for the next Christmas time. True, the needles don't fall, but somehow shopping for a tree in a department store lacks the zest of walking through a cold, muddy corner lot and engaging in some friendly bartering with the operator.

And as for going up in the attic or out in the storage shed and digging last year's tree out and dusting it off... no thanks.

Sorily missed are the old-fashioned wrappings featuring jolly St. Nicks, reindeer, Christmas trees, and other symbols of the season. Now the stack of presents under the tree is wrapped in gold foil or blue foil or other colors with no connection with the season.

You can hardly tell a Christmas present from a wedding present today. And not infrequently the wrapping costs more than the present.

Even the Christmas spirits have changed and it's becoming increasingly difficult to find a Tom and Jerry worthy of the name now that many of the old time pubkeepers have left the business or left the scene.

Old-timers in the area recall with relish the pleasures to be found in making a tour of the county to sample the Tom and Jerry potions produced by such legendary hosts as Tony Martini and Barney Boehm in Waukegan; Henning Johnson, who always added a dash of Sweden to his mixture, or Hank Vogler, of the famous-Skokie strip who could mix a mean Tom and Jerry with a bit of an Australian accent.

No sampling was complete without a taste of those memorable Tom and Jerry's put out at Nick's Cocktail Lounge in North Chicago, and even Chop Chop Hoff at the Parkway could be prevailed upon to create a cup of frothy nectar if the mood were upon him.

There are a few places left where tradition holds its own like Archdale's in Waukegan where George still presides albeit lacking the special touch Brother Ted used to bring to the Yule goodies.

Mark Turner has been known to turn out a tasty Tom and Jerry, but too frequently he seasons his batter with politics which don't always reflect the leanings of his patrons, an inconsequential failing in most seasons, but hardly appropriate during the time of Peace on Earth to Men of Good Will.

Cardinal To Offer Service

The Traditional Midnight Mass celebrated by John Cardinal Cody, Archbishop of Chicago, will take place in a different setting this year. Ordinarily the Christmas Mass of the Archbishop would be held at Holy Name Cathedral, as it has been for the past 94 years.

Because the Cathedral is now closed for renovation, the Christmas service will take place at St. Patrick's Church, 718 West Adams Street (corner of Des Plaines St.) Chicago.

Over 100 years old, the present St. Patrick's Church is the second of that name, replacing an earlier frame structure, and has the distinction of being the oldest Catholic Church building in the Archdiocese. The brick and stone Church, built in 1856, has remained a landmark as one of the few buildings to survive the Chicago Fire of 1871.

Concelebrating the Solemn Pontifical Midnight Mass with the Cardinal will be the pastor of St. Patrick's, Rev. Stephen J. O'Donnell, along with his two associates, Rev. John J. Grace and Rev. Thomas M. Leahy. Another concelebrant will be Rev. Anthony Kalathivellil, from the Archdiocese of Verapoly, Kerala, South India, a graduate student at DePaul University who resides at St. Patrick's.

The homily will be preached by Cardinal Cody, who will take this opportunity to extend Christmas greetings to all the people of Chicago, as well as to his own flock of 2,340,000 Roman Catholics in this most populous diocese in the country.

The Choristers of St. Patrick's Girls' High School, which is conducted by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, will provide the music. Forty-five girls from the Choir under the direction of Sr. Diane, D. C., will sing at the Midnight Mass and preceding Carol Service, which begins at 11:30 p.m.

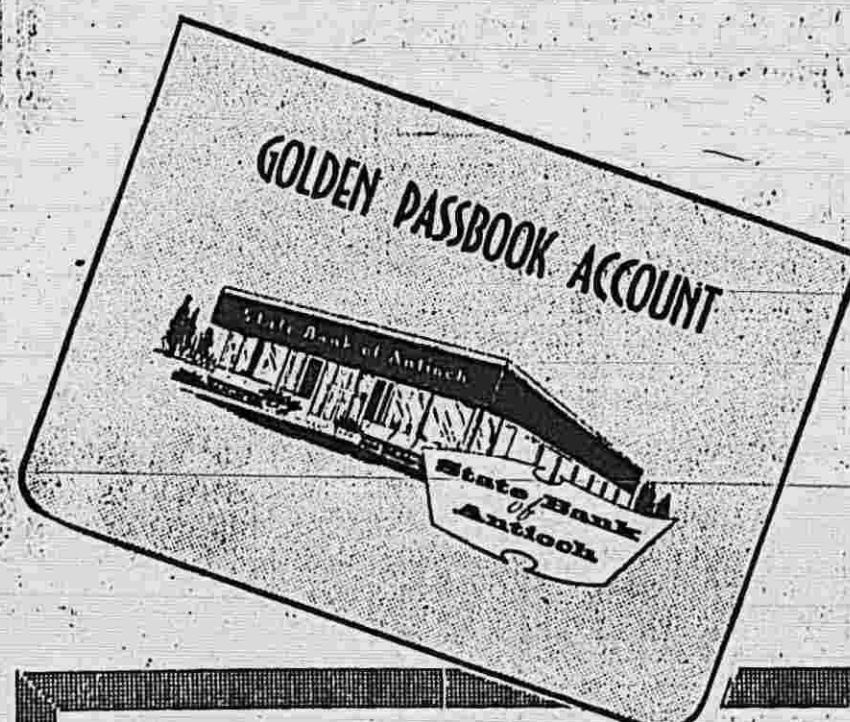

The Mass will be given live broadcast coverage by WGN-TV and WGN radio. Narrating the televised Mass will be Rev. John S. Banahan, Director of the Department of Radio and Television of the Archdiocese. Narrator for the Mass on radio will be James Horn, a seminarian at Niles College of Loyola University.

Early Surgery Is Lifesaver for Infants, March of Dimes Medical Expert Says

By ANITA FALLA, M.D.

Pediatric Surgeon, March of Dimes Birth Defects Center, Babies Hospital, Newark, N. J.

Pediatric surgery has become a life saver for thousands of infants born with defects. Three out of four babies beyond the help of surgery as recently as 20 years ago can now be saved.

It is entirely possible that within ten years, infants we cannot help today, will survive because of techniques now being developed in such fields as fetal surgery, organ transplants and microsurgery.

Successful pediatric surgery often includes a race against time requiring perfect teamwork among the surgeon and the many other medical specialists who are responsible for the life of an infant with birth defects.

Tremendous strides have been made in the early and accurate diagnosis of many of these defects. Action can now be taken almost immediately after birth to correct many conditions that not too long ago would have been fatal.

A good example is the emergency that occurs when a baby is born with a condition called esophageal atresia in which the passage from the mouth to the stomach is closed or completely interrupted so that the child cannot get food into his stomach. If the pediatric surgeon does not act very quickly, the infant will die. Most of these children can now be saved by a well-trained surgical team with the best hospital facilities at their disposal.

The nationwide network of birth defects treatment centers financed by The National Foundation-March of Dimes has dramatically demonstrated the value of providing diagnosis and treatment through teams of specialists consulting together under one roof. The pediatrician and the pediatric surgeon may wish to call on the skills of many specialists to help the child with birth defects. These could include a plastic surgeon, an orthopedist, neurosurgeon, urologist, nurses and physical therapists for just one tiny patient. There might also be need for X-rays, braces, laboratory tests and a multitude of other services. The X-ray facilities and laboratory personnel must be particularly skilled in working with premature infants and children.

Dr. Anita Falla and one of her associates give a post-surgical check-up to one of her patients who needed an operation because of a birth defect.

The newborn infant is a startling contrast in toughness and weakness. He is tough in that he has remarkable healing powers because his cells multiply rapidly to repair tissues after surgery. At the same time, a baby can become ill almost without warning and the disease runs its course much more swiftly than in an adult.

Needless to say, great care must be taken with surgery on infants and children. We must always remember that a baby is a human being in miniature whose parts are diminutive and vulnerable. An infant is also particularly susceptible to surgical shock. His body temperature has to be maintained at normal level every instant. Almost every drop of blood lost during surgery must be replaced, because an infant cannot afford to lose much of his tiny supply which totals only about a pint as compared with five or six quarts for an adult.

Every baby presents a different problem based on weight, measurements and rate of development. Surgical technique for newborn babies is as delicate as that of a watchmaker, because tiny growing tissues must be guarded against damage. Nothing can be squeezed or tied too tightly for fear of damage. Tension must be always avoided. Surgery is performed with the tips of the fingers to achieve delicacy of touch. Everything used in pediatric surgery is in miniature. Surgical knives have blades no longer than half an inch. Tiny thermometers are used, blood tests are taken usually by the drop, and a blood transfusion may be only one or two ounces of blood. Infant heart-lung machines, are available for open heart operations on babies and a small blood pressure instrument with a cuff an inch wide and only three inches long is wrapped around a baby's arm to measure his blood pressure.

In so many ways it is difficult to operate on infants because of their tiny size and lack of resistance to infection. Often several different conditions commonly found in infants with birth defects must be tackled together and at once in order to save the child's life. Action must be taken immediately even if the surgical team has to stay-up most of the night in the operating room. After the surgery is completed, the infant requires very careful nursing care. Given precise surgical treatment, and dedicated constant nursing care, the infant has an excellent chance to survive and mature. One must always realize the infant's instinct to live is the most dynamic asset he has. This is why the effort made to help a sick child very often yields great rewards.

Collins Joins Leukemia Drive As Chairman

Philip W. Collins, Chicago insurance executive recently re-elected State Representative from the 30th District, has been named chairman of the political division of the Leukemia Society of America, Greater Chicago Chapter's 1968-69 drive.

The announcement was made by Richard Lewis, campaign chairman and assistant to the president of the H. F. Campbell Company, industrial development and planning firm.

Lewis said that Collins will

Philip W. Collins

work with persons in government, politics and allied fields to help the Leukemia Society reach its annual goal of $250,000.

The Leukemia Society of America is a national volunteer health agency with chapters throughout the country. It concentrates its efforts on the control and eventual eradication of leukemia through a three-point program of research, patient aid and community education.

More than 13,000 persons from Chicago and suburbs are participating in this year's drive, an all-time high for the society. Leukemia is the nation's number one killer of children and second only to lung cancer in its rapid ascendancy as a killer. This year, an estimated 18,000 persons will die from leukemia.

Collins was voted one of the Outstanding Freshman Legislators by the House leadership in 1967. He is a member of the Appropriations Committee, Veterans Affairs, Personnel and Pension Committee; Registration and Regulation Committee; Legislative Audit Commission, Legislative Reference Bureau and House Republican Campaign Committee.

He started politics as a precinct captain shortly after graduating from Notre Dame in 1955, and worked his way up to president of his ward organization. In 1962, he ran unsuccessfully for trustee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District and in 1964 handled the coordination of all speaking engagements in Cook County for the entire Republican slate including then gubernatorial candidate Charles Percy. He was elected to the Illinois House in 1966 and won re-election last November.

He resides with his wife, the former Mary Ann Barry, and two children, Philip, 11, and Tierney, 9, at 7321 South Shore Drive.

Veterans To Receive Dividends

Some 237,994 Illinois World War I and World War II veterans holding G. I. insurance policies will receive $12,821,500 in dividends during 1969, John B. Naser, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Chicago, announced today.

Beginning Jan. 1 dividends will be paid on the anniversary dates of the policies, Mr. Naser said. Nationally, VA will pay out $236 million in dividends in 1969 to approximately 4,250,000 veterans holding National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI) policies.

This is $13 million more than the 1968 dividend payment of $223 million, Mr. Naser explained.

The VA regional office manager said that the 228,786 World War II veterans in Illinois who hold NSLI policies will receive $11,829,400 in dividends in 1969.

Nationally, NSLI dividends in 1969 will total $218 million, with payments averaging about $3 to $4,100,000 World War II veterans.

The dividend to be paid the 9,208 World War I veterans in Illinois who hold USGLI policies will total $92,100.

Some 185,000 World War I veterans nationally will receive $18 million in 1969 USGLI dividends, with payments averaging $97, up $18 over the 1968 average payment of $79.

Increased interest earnings on government life insurance funds made possible the higher 1969 dividends, Mr. Naser said.

Powell Advises To Buy Plates For Christmas

Buy yourself a Christmas present—your 1969 auto license plates, Secretary of State Paul Powell suggested today.

"We hope to make the deadline for displaying the new plates earlier this time, February 1 instead of Feb. 15," Powell warned, but pointed out that if car owners will get the plates now, they will not have to worry about an earlier deadline.

He also pointed out that there are no lines of people waiting to get their plates at present at his office's over-the-counter facilities in Springfield and Chicago and at 87 banks throughout the state, Secretary Powell said.

but that as the display deadline gets close, the lines will start forming.

The same is true of applications received by mail, Secretary Powell said. Avoiding the last-minute rush will assure earlier processing of the applications and earlier delivery of plates.

To be sure of having their plates in time for the possible earlier deadline, motorists applying by mail should have their applications in his office no later than Jan. 1, Mr. Powell said.

License plates are third class mail, and are not delivered as quickly by the postal authorities as first class mail. This factor, plus the time required for processing, can result in an interval of two or three weeks between the time the applications are received and the plates are delivered, Secretary Powell said.

BGA Names Friedman Director

Richard E. Friedman, first assistant attorney general, has been named executive director of the Better Government Association, it was announced today by Max Robert Schrayner, president of the board of Directors of the BGA.

Schrayner added that George W. Bliss will continue as acting executive director until March 1, 1969, when Friedman will terminate his position with the attorney general's office. At that time

Bliss will become the director of the department of investigations of the BGA, a new department created to extend and enlarge on the investigative work of the association.

Schrayner said that Friedman will have the responsibility of directing the many programs of the BGA, including the screening of potential candidates, the recommendation of corrective legislation and membership functions. Bliss, Schrayner said, will have complete control of investigations and the investigative staff of the BGA and will be responsible to the BGA Board of Directors and Trustees.

A special committee appointed by the Board of Directors of the BGA to find a new executive director of the BGA named Friedman as the replacement for George E. Mahin. Friedman was selected following an extensive search and interviews among potential candidates for the executive director, Schrayner said.

Friedman was appointed first assistant attorney general in 1964 by Attorney General William G. Clark. He is a Federal Commissioner appointed to handle the City of Chicago Re-apportionment case.

Bliss, labor editor, investigative reporter and writer for the Chicago Tribune for 25 years, joined the BGA staff on Jan. 1, 1968. He has received the coveted Pulitzer prize in addition to a long series of other major awards covering writing, investigative reporting and labor news.

Friedman replaces Mahin, executive director of the BGA, since May, 1957, who resigned last November to become chairman of the transition committee of the new state government. Mahin has been named as the new director of the State Revenue Department.

Roswell Spencer, former supervising agent of the FBI and chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, will resign Jan. 1 as chief investigator of the BGA to become director of investigations of the State Department of Revenue.

New higher interest rates on Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares

Now U.S. Savings Bonds pay 4 1/4% new Freedom Shares pay 5%.

Today, Savings Bonds are a better investment than ever. Now they pay 4 1/4% when held to maturity. And new Freedom Shares pay a full 5% when held to maturity.

Freedom Shares are still sold on a one-for-one basis with Series E Bonds, but now you can buy the combination any time at your bank—and not just on a regular monthly plan as before.

The higher interest rate on Savings Bonds applies not only to the new ones you buy, but to your older ones too for their remaining period to maturity—generally effective with the first full six-months interest period beginning on or after June 1. (Outstanding Freedom Shares are not affected).

Buy Bonds and New Freedom Shares—help yourself even more as you're helping your country.

ANNIE MAE CAROLERS HAVE HOT TIME

Antioch Firemen, about 20 strong, headed by Frank Kuehnmeister, and including Mayor Toft, went caroling Sunday night. They also sang at Smart's. Their warmest reception, however, was at Betty Waite's home, when the Swedish plug she had prepared for them caused a small blaze. She didn't have to call the firemen!

Casting On For New PM&L Play

Tryouts for "Visit to a Small Planet," directed by Al Ramsay, were held at the PM&L Theatre, Main Street, Antioch on Wednesday and Friday, Dec. 18 and 20, from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

This delightful comedy by Gore Vidal has a cast of seven, five men and two women, ranging in age from teens to middle age, plus two walk-on roles.

An imaginative production like "Visit to a Small Planet" will need plenty of creative help backstage, too, so if you are handy with paint brush, needle, hammer, pencil or what-have-you, PM&L would like to know you!

Working with a fine director and actor as Dr. Alastair Ramsay should be a rewarding experience, and the play is pure delight.

Food Stamp Program Is Liberalized

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced a liberalization of the Food Stamp Program which will include benefits to more than 500,000 persons. Families with net incomes under $70 a month who take part in the Food Stamp Program can get more food for less cost starting Feb. 1, or soon after.

"This will move the lowest-income families in the Food Stamp Program closer to the goal of a fully adequate low-cost diet—as close as we can get them with the funds and authority now available," the Secretary said. "It will also make it easier for more families to take part."

For example, a Midwest family of four with a monthly income between $60 and $70 now pays $28 and gets $66 worth of food stamp coupons. After the program changes, they will pay $20 and get $66 worth of food stamp coupons.

MISS DEB

... answers questions about Junior Miss etiquette, grooming and interests.

Q. I love the look of fish-net hose, but after wearing them about an hour my feet really start feeling sticky and uncomfortable. Do you have any suggestions, or am I just going to have to suffer?

A. Here's a way to foot comfort—try lining each shoe with a Kleenex tissue. It won't show and will keep your feet from rubbing against the inside of the shoe. Just fold the tissue to fit the bottom of your shoe—and fish-net hose will be just as comfortable as regular stockings!

Q. Teachers are always complaining about my hard-to-read handwriting. I try to write as clearly as I can, but it never seems to help—and sometimes my grades are lower because of it. Is there anything I can do?

A. Try typing rather than writing! You can learn the keyboard pretty quickly—especially with a course at school—and your work will always look neat and be easy to read. Second-hand typewriters are relatively inexpensive. Or if you have a birthday or graduation coming up, why not ask for a portable typewriter? It's a worthwhile investment.

Q. I go ice-skating with the gang a few times a week and it's lots of fun—except when I get home and have to clean the blades of my skates. I could really use some blade aid.

A. Keep skating! Putting a fresh shine on those skates takes a minimum of effort. Just wipe the blades with a Kleenex disposable window washer (yes, it washes more than windows!) that you've dampened. Then go over the blades with a Kleenex paper towel. In two minutes your skate blades are ready for the next outing!

Education Association Will Meet

The 115th annual meeting of the Illinois Education Association will be held Dec. 26 to 28 in the Sherman House, Chicago.

More than 900 delegates, representing 70,000 state association members, will consider legislative solutions to problems in school finance, pupil-teacher welfare, and retirement.

Delegates will study problems directly related to the profession such as professional negotiations, grievance procedures, and impasse in negotiation. The Representative Assembly will be called upon to endorse the revised Code of Ethics of the Education Profession. Remaining sessions are scheduled to cover reports from governing committees, commissions, and association affiliates.

The 1968 Representative Assembly will name a new president-elect, a public relations committee chairman, a director at large, a teacher welfare and ethics commission chairman, and a citizenship-commission chairman. A state NEA director will be named in a preferential election.

Metropolitan Opera Tryouts In February

Almost 1000 music teachers and music schools in Illinois and Northern Indiana last week received invitations to have their voice students apply for the Metropolitan Opera National Council Central Regional Auditions which will be held on February 11 and 12 at Chicago's Opera House. The auditions this year will be presented in cooperation with Lyric Opera of Chicago.

Applications for the Central Regional Auditions will be accepted from any voice student residing or studying in the state of Illinois or in the northern part of Indiana (from Kokomo to the Michigan border). Applicants who prefer to audition in another region can make arrangements to transfer through the director of their own region.

The first day of the February auditions—February 11, 1969—will be the preliminaries and will be judged by three out-of-town judges whose names will be announced later. The Central Regional finals—to be held on February 12, 1969—will be judged by Maestro Ignace Stravogel, assistant to Rudolph Bing of the Metropolitan Opera.

Completed applications should be sent to Mrs. Gerald O. Mc-Donald, chairman of candidates, 6739 Longmeadow Avenue, Lincolnwood, Illinois 60466, by the deadline, Feb. 3, 1969. Applicants must be in the following age brackets: sopranos, 19-30; altos, 19-32; tenors, 20-32; baritones, 20-33; basses, 20-32.

Applicants must have some voice training, musical background and artistic aptitude. No professional experience is required, and each candidate must be sponsored by a school, college, music club or voice teacher. The sponsor must be familiar with the vocal capabilities of the applicant.

An entry fee of $5.00 will be required of each applicant and auditions are encouraged to provide their own accompanist. If this is not possible, an accompanist will be provided at no cost. Definite audition times will be assigned to each candidate. Finalists of the Central Regional Auditions will be eligible for the $300 F. K. Weyerhaeuser award to the first place winner, the $200 Anne duPont Peyton memorial award to the second place winner and the $100 Anne duPont Peyton memorial award to the third place winner. The first place winner will also be eligible to compete in the National semifinals which will be held in New York on April 11, 1969. The national finals will be held on Nov. 2, 1969.

Mrs. Richard Wright Simmons is chairman of the Central Region. Mrs. William O. Hunt, Jr., and Mrs. Melville Ireland, are regional co-directors.

Central High To Use Data Processing

The regular meeting of the board of education was held at the high school on Dec. 10, with all members present. Minutes of the regular meeting of Nov. 10 were read and all bills presented for payment were approved.

The school administration recommended the use of Measurement Research Center, Iowa City, Iowa for data processing services in the registration and scheduling of students. A one-year contract for this service was approved.

A report on curriculum revisions in language arts was presented. A major feature of these revisions would be the inclusion of work in reading, particularly in the area of study skills, for all freshman students. This new instruction will begin in the 1969-70 school year.

CESA No. 18 sent a proposal to all its constituent districts which operate high schools to take part in the setting up of a data processing service to be offered at standard prices to the schools. It was decided not to participate at this time.

DRIVING FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

By Paul Powell
Secretary of State

Hydroplaning sounds like something that should be fun, but it's not! Not when it's done in an automobile at 70 miles an hour.

Water on the highway can be a most fatal condition. The amount can be very small and still you can develop a condition called HYDROPLANING.

The hydroplaning occurs when the speed of the vehicle, tire inflation pressure, water depth on the road, condition of the pavement surface, and the condition of the tire tread are combined in such fashion that the tire loses contact with the pavement.

The lower the tire pressure the lower the speed at which a hydroplane will set in. For example, a tire pressure of 16 pounds gives a hydroplaning effect at 41 miles per hour, where a tire at 24 pounds, the condition won't set in till 60 mph, when the other conditions also exist. Many accidents that are blamed on the weather are in reality caused by hydroplaning.

What can you do to prevent hydroplaning? First, adjust your speed to road conditions, slow down when the roads are wet. Be alert for standing water or puddles, increase following distances and most of all, keep good tires on your car and keep them properly inflated.

Antioch Smothers Lake Zurich 103-47

With a sharp, hustling full court press, the Antioch Sequoits beat Lake Zurich last Thursday evening 103 to 47. The win moved the Sequoits back into a tie for 1st place in the conference.

The Sequoits eagles left no doubt in the minds of the fans as to the outcome of the game. In the first quarter with Dave Camp hitting from the outside and Keith Bolton inside, the Sequoits moved to a 29 to 9 lead.

The full court pressing defense also helped a great deal as the eagles from Lake Zurich lost the ball many times because of the pressure defense.

In the second quarter, coach Andrews substituted freely with all the squad members playing a good deal of the time. The reserves were eager for the kill, too, as they also outscored Lake Zurich 32 to 20. Thus the Sequoits went to the locker room leading 61 to 29.

During the 3rd quarter the two teams were cool at the basket and there were several floor mistakes, as the teams exchanged points.

With the start of the 4th quarter, Coach Andrews played the five underclassmen on the squad, four juniors and one sophomore. These eagles proved they can play some basketball too. As the quarter started, the underclass cagers scored 26 straight points. At this point the crowd was calling for a hundred points. Jim Weiss fouled out and Jim Carlson was put back in the game. With 55 seconds left, Carlson was fouled, he then made both free throws to raise the score to 101. During the 4th quarter Bolton and Neil McKenzie lead the attack with 12 and 9 points respectively.

"It sure makes a difference—lots of hustle and rebounding or no hustle. We looked like a different team tonight, than what we looked like last Saturday at Lake Forest. Hustle and desire is the answer. We sure hope the team now understands that," said coach Andrews.

As for individuals, "Dave Camp did his usually fine job, both offensively and defensively. He needs to do more driving. He could increase his point total 4 to 7 points a game with some driving. The continued improved play of Keith Bolton is real rewarding."

Jim Carlson started the game in place of Steve Owens, who was benched for lack of hustle and rebounding. "Jim did a great job. I sure was happy with his play," added Coach Andrews.

Owens entered the game late in the first quarter, did he play or did he play? Steve grabbed 15 rebounds, blocked several shots and scored 19 points. It looks like he must want to play," quoted Andrews. Two reserves, Jim Weiss and Neil McKenzie were impressive, too.

The next game for the Sequoits is Thursday, Dec. 28th at Auburn High School, at 8:30 p.m. The Rockford Classic Tournament will be played at two sites on Thursday, then on Friday and Saturday the tournament will be at Rockford. Boylan, the usual site for the tournament.

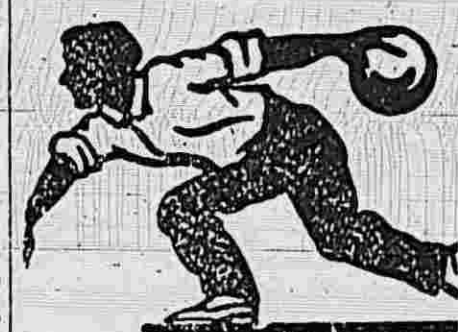

Best route to Auburn High: Rt. 173 to Rt. 51, turn left on 51, go south until you reach Auburn Street, turn right on Auburn St., and immediately you cross the river, go west on Auburn St.

for about 4 miles—the high school is in the outskirts of town, on the west side—(far west side).

Cash Is There For Winners In Snow Derby

Eagle River, Wis.—There's $10,000 in cash up for grabs at the World's Championship Snowmobile Derby, Jan. 17 and 19 at Eagle River, Wisconsin.

The prize money is given for the two days of class racing in the modified and stock divisions.

A separate and additional purse, as yet not determined, will be awarded for the world's championship feature match race of the Derby.

Red Dobbs, general chairman of the Derby, announced that the world's championship winner will also win a complete workshop set of power tools from the Rockwell Company, and a large quantity of snowmobile oil from the Quaker State Oil Company.

Drivers seeking to compete in the world feature race will attempt their qualification runs on Jan. 15 and 16. Class racing begins at 9 a.m. on Jan. 17 and 19, with the world final feature event scheduled for 3 p.m. on Jan. 19, between the ten top qualifiers.

Because of the popularity of the rugged speed-obstacle course and adjacent quarter-mile oval which draws the continent's top drivers from Canada, Alaska and the United States, the overall field is limited to the first 500 registrants.

Dobbs said there will be a limit of 350 machines in the modified classes, and 150 in the stock classes.

Complete information and entry blanks are available by writing Peter Anderson, Jr., registration chairman, Eagle River, Wis.

Fans Can Predict Winner

Racing fans will have the chance to match the winning purse of the famed Daytona 500 race in 1969 in a "Daytona 500 Victory Sweepstakes" announced by Pure Oil, a division of Unifol Oil Company of California.

By using official entry forms available at participating Pure Oil dealers, racing fans can, by predicting the winning driver of the 1969 Daytona 500 and his winning average speed to three decimal places, have an opportunity to win an amount equal to the winner's official purse—at least $37,500.

In addition, for each week for six weeks prior to the February 23, 1969 Daytona 500, a special bonus drawing will be held for 15 $1,000 weekly prizes.

Pure, the number one name in racing, has been the official fuel supplier since the early days of the Daytona 500.

Cale Yarborough won the 1968 Daytona 500 with a winning average speed of 143.251 miles per hour.

says...

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

RELIEF FOR PSORIASIS

Psoriasis is like a horde of harmless ants at a picnic—it can't kill you, but it can certainly be annoying.

Victims of this itching skin disease need, first of all, understanding from their families and acquaintances. They may be embarrassed by the red scaly patches that appear on their hairline, knees or elbows, and for their own mental health, they need assurances that society is not turning away from them.

Psoriasis, a chronic disease affecting one out of every 50 Americans is not contagious. Nor is it an infection. It is one of the mysteries of medicine, for scientists do not know its specific cause or cure.

The red patches can appear on the trunk, head, ears and other parts of the body. Itching accompanies the disease and dry white scales will form and drop off the body.

Fortunately, there is much that can be done to relieve the discomfort of psoriasis. Most cases of psoriasis improve in the summer. If this is true in your case, daily doses of either outdoor sunlight or indoor ultraviolet rays will improve your condition.

You'll find that sunlamps having quartz tubes are more effective than those with glass tubes because it is harder for the helpful rays to pass through glass.

A word of caution here—a very small percentage of psoriasis sufferers find that their condition worsens in the summer. If you are a member of this minority, cover yourself outdoors with protective clothing and apply vase-line to areas of the skin not covered by clothing.

Don't treat your own condition.
When lesions of psoriasis first appear (sometimes in the teens), put yourself in the hands of a physician.

He may prescribe cortisone or steroids which have been found helpful. Certain ointments are effective in relieving the itching and removing the scales.

Once an effective treatment has been established, stick to it.
Physicians have found that when effective treatment is withdrawn, a sufferer returns to his previous condition.

Above all, have faith in the future. Psoriasis is not a hopeless condition. Medical science knows more about it today than it ever has.

Heredity and skin injury are currently being studied as causes of the disease. Once the cause is pinpointed, medical science will be better armed to find the cure.
